

Rights Workers Pour Into Mississippi

New Lead Probed In Case of Missing Trio

PHILADELPHIA, Miss. (AP)—Authorities today probed a report that two young white men were seen standing by a station wagon similar to one driven by the three civil rights workers who vanished eight days ago.

The widespread search for clues in the baffling disappearance of Michael Schwerner, 24; Andy Goodman, 20, both of New York; and James Chaney, 22, a Meridian Negro, continued in this red clay hill section of east-central Mississippi.

One hundred sailors from the Navy's airfield at Meridian re-joined the highway patrol and FBI to search west of this town of 5,000 as other officers dragged small lakes and streams.

Chief investigator Gwin Cole of the highway patrol said one witness had reported seeing a station wagon near a side road in the Bogue Chitto swamp near the spot where the burned vehicle used by the missing trio was found last Tuesday.

The witness, Cole said, spotted the station wagon and two men, whom he described as "of similar appearance" to Goodman and Schwerner, last Monday before noon.

At least six persons have told authorities they had passed the site around 11 a.m. last Monday and saw nothing.

Choctaw Indians confessed they stripped the hubcaps off the burned-out vehicle about 5 p.m. last Monday.

Some 275 more summer volunteer civil rights workers poured into this racially tense state over the weekend. Goodman had arrived the previous weekend in the advance guard of about 175 collegians from the north and west.

The students will work with the Council of Federated Organizations' Negro education and voter registration projects.

Red Attack In Laos Feared
Souvanna Reports Communist Buildup

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP)—Laotian Premier Souvanna Phouma says the Communists are preparing to attack his badly outnumbered neutralist army at its last stronghold in the strategic Plaine des Jarres area.

Souvanna said the Communists have 17 battalions—about 8,000 men—and heavy artillery massed for a five-pronged assault on Muong Soui, 110 miles north of Vientiane and just northwest of the plain. The neutralists have about 3,000 men at Muong Soui.

The Communist Pathet Lao and their North Vietnamese allies drove Gen. Kong Le's neutralist forces off the plain earlier this month, then halted their advance.

"We will try to resist," Souvanna told a news conference Sunday.

The loss of Muong Soui, on Highway 7, would give the Communists an important advantage for an assault on the royal Laotian capital of Luang Prabang and bring them closer to the administrative capital of Vientiane.

Souvanna showed newsmen aerial photographs taken by U.S. reconnaissance planes which he said showed movements of troops from North Viet Nam to Pathet Lao positions.

"Nobody can deny North Viet Nam's interference," he said.

Souvanna said the Laotian air force's T28 fighter-bombers—U.S.-supplied propeller planes—were continuing their strikes against the enemy but were hampered by bad weather. He said poor visibility also was preventing U.S. reconnaissance planes from flying as often as he wants.

The neutralist premier again called for a summit meeting of the leaders of the three factions in Laos. Prince Souphanouvong, his half-brother and the Pathet Lao leader, has called for such a conference on the Communist-held Plaine des Jarres.

But Souvanna said he would only consent to a meeting on the plain if the Communists withdraw from the positions they have taken from the neutralists since the Red drive began May 16.

Possibility of St. Augustine Truce Looms

Efforts to Form Committee to Seek Peace Progressing

ST. AUGUSTINE, Fla. (AP)—The possibility of a truce in St. Augustine's racial conflict loomed today for the first time in nearly two weeks.

A new effort to establish a bi-racial committee of two whites and two Negroes to seek peace was reported nearing success.

Community leaders predicted that any group would have a difficult time because the middle ground has all but disappeared in the furious, month-long push for integration by Negroes and the equally determined resistance by whites.

There has been almost no communication between the two races for more than a week, following collapse of the first effort to find a settlement.

In the first fruitless attempt, a St. Johns County grand jury called for a 30-day truce in public demonstrations, after which a bi-racial committee would have been established. The Negro leader, the Rev. Martin Luther King Jr., rejected this and sought immediate formation of the committee.

The grand jury refused to negotiate along these lines.

The pace of demonstrations by both Negroes and whites was stepped up. First fights and other violence became a daily occurrence as integrationists were met on the beaches and city streets by fist-swinging whites.

Gov. Farris Bryant clamped on a curfew to end public parades at night. That brought him into U.S. District Court faced with a possible contempt citation in a case to be decided Tuesday.

Methodist Changes Affect 3 Area Churches

Rev. Charles W. Stoneburner, superintendent of Steubenville District, was assigned to the pastorate of Canfield Methodist Church at the closing session of the Methodist North - East Ohio annual conference Saturday at Lakeside. He will replace Rev. J. Meade Letts, who was appointed superintendent of the Berea Methodist Church.

Mr. and Mrs. Stoneburner will move to the Canfield parsonage at 25 S. Broad St., next Saturday.

Other area appointments are: Rev. Herman L. Strawn from New Waterford to Franklin Square; Rev. William Mautz from Empire to Hammondville; and Rev. Leland Floyd from Hopdale to New Waterford.

The conference also assigned a full time minister, Rev. Charles E. Richardson, to the North Jackson Methodist Church, the first in recent history of that church. Rev. Richardson is former minister of the church at Bristolville.

The North Jackson church presently has a membership of 30 with five children attending the Sunday School. Future growth is anticipated with the building of the new General Motors plant at Lordstown.

Rev. William Longworth continues as pastor of the First Methodist Church in Salem.

Lodge Home to Boost Scranton Urges Nomination Of 'Prudent Man'

WASHINGTON (AP)—Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge flew in from Saigon today saying the Republican party should nominate the "presidential candidate who is prudent, not impulsive, and I think Gov. Scranton is one of the best men."

Speaking at plane-side upon his return at 7:30 a.m. (EDT), Lodge declared flatly: "I cannot be drafted."

He said the whole point of his resigning the "very interesting" post in South Viet Nam was to come back and help Gov. William W. Scranton in his drive for the Republican nomination.

Lodge disclosed that he will appear at the Republican party Platform Committee in San Francisco July 8. He said he does not—so far, at least—have a ticket for the convention.

Asked for comment on Sen. Barry Goldwater—whose defeat Lodge seeks in the nomination fight—the retiring envoy said he did not want to comment because he wants to take a constructive line, not a negative one.

Lodge got into his comment

Attorney General Gets Warm Welcome

RFK Urges Poles To Promote Thaw

WARSAW, Poland (AP)—Encouraged by wildly cheering Polish crowds, Robert F. Kennedy called on Communist Poland Sunday night to help promote the new thaw in the cold war.

The U.S. attorney general told Foreign Minister Adam Rapacki that Poland has a unique opportunity to supply a bridge of understanding between the United States and the Soviet Union.

U.S. sources said Kennedy told Rapacki that Poland could play a key role in improving relations because of its membership in the Soviet bloc and the strong ties between the Polish and American peoples.

They met for dinner at Jablonna Palace, a former royal hunting lodge 10 miles from Warsaw. They also were believed to have discussed the German territories seized by Poland after World War II. The Western allies have not officially recognized these as permanent Polish territory.

The meeting followed a triumphant tour of Warsaw by the visiting American despite an official news blackout on his arrival.

Poland's official press and radio maintained silence on the visit, but word got around. An estimated 6,000 Poles jammed the narrow streets around St. John's Cathedral as Kennedy emerged from Mass.

Shouts of "Long live Kennedy" and "Long live America" greeted the attorney general, his wife, Ethel, and two sons as they rode through Warsaw streets.

"I am not running for president, but if I were, I wish you could all come to the United States to vote," Kennedy told a crowd in front of Warsaw University.

The Kennedys sat on the roof of U.S. Ambassador John M. Cabot's limousine and waved when swelling crowds stopped

8-Year-Old E. Liverpool Boy Drowns

EAST LIVERPOOL — An 8-year-old Lacroft boy was drowned Sunday night in Little Roc Lake on Rt. 267 midway between Glenmoor and Apples Corners.

The victim was Jeffrey Thorne, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Thorne.

The body was recovered at 8:55 by a group of half a dozen Scuba divers who made systematic search by swimming in 25-foot circles. At the same time, men were using a rowboat in dragging operations in the small lake.

Oxygen was administered when the boy's body had been carried to the shore, but the attempt to revive life was fruitless. The child was pronounced dead on arrival at City Hospital.

The body was found 40 to 50 feet offshore in the small private lake, near the foot of a sliding board.

Several hundred spectators lined Route 267 or stood on the hillside picnic area overlooking the lake to watch the search. State Highway Patrol officers, sheriff's deputies and constables were on hand to direct traffic.

Life guards and others made a search of the lake shore and the picnic and recreation areas in the park about 7 p.m. when the boy's disappearance was noted. When it became apparent he was lost in the lake, the first rescue operations were organized.

Shortly afterward the Glenmoor firemen and Scuba divers arrived to join in the search. The divers found the body just as darkness was falling over the lake.

President Also Boosts Rights Action In Talk

Concludes 3-Day Trip Into Michigan And Minnesota

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson says the United States "must be prepared to risk war" to keep its freedom, yet ready to "seek just compromise" to achieve peace.

This was Johnson's keynote message Sunday as he ended a three-day trip into Michigan and Minnesota. He took up the matter of war and peace in his only non-political speech of the trip, at a Swedish Day festival in Minneapolis.

Facing thousands of cheering Minnesotans who stood under shade trees in Minnehaha Park, Johnson said:

"Today, as always, if a nation is to keep its freedom it must be prepared to risk war. When necessary, we will take that risk. But as long as I am president, I will spare neither my office nor myself in the quest for peace."

Change From Prepared Text

In South Viet Nam, Johnson said, "We are engaged in a brutal and bitter struggle for the freedom of a friend" and "we will stand firm to help maintain freedom and give them counsel and advice and help as necessary." This was a change from his prepared text, which read, "There too, we will use the force necessary to help them maintain their own freedom."

Johnson had this to say about compromising East-West differences in the interest of peace: "We must remember that differences with others do not always flow from a desire for domination. They can come from honest clash of beliefs or goals. In such cases our strength does not entitle us to impose our interest. Rather, our desire for peace compels us to seek just compromise."

Several Paths to Peace

In discussing "the several paths we take to peace," Johnson made some pointed statements about the civil rights problem at home in talking about "the ability to adjust disputes without the use of force."

Johnson said that in the pursuit of justice, the nation can find guidance "here in our own country's historic pledge to the rule of law."

Speaking as much about civil rights as the quest for international peace, Johnson said: "As a president of the United States, and as an individual citizen, I stand totally committed to the integrity of justice and the enforcement of the law."

Johnson said the United States is pledged to "abide by the law and accept its settlements . . . to submit to courts and be satisfied by court decisions . . . to respect, uphold and obey the

Scranton Starts Nine-State Tour

DALTON, Pa. (AP) — Gov. William W. Scranton of Pennsylvania launches today a nine-state, cross-country quest for support of his bid for the Republican presidential nomination after saying on television that his chief opponent lacks qualities for the high office.

Scranton leaves for Charlotte, N.C., on a campaign tour that will take him to Atlanta, Ga.; Knoxville, Tenn.; Chicago; Salt Lake City, Utah; Eugene, Ore., and North and South Dakota.

Addressing a national television audience from his Georgian-style mansion at Dalton Sunday night, Scranton listed three reasons why he didn't think Sen. Barry Goldwater ought to be the Republican candidate for president.

"In the first place it is clear that he lacks public support. Goldwater would run far behind President Johnson this November," Scranton said, citing public opinion polls made by him and by independent agencies.

Scranton added "Goldwater has developed the unfortunate reputation of being impulsive with the great question of whether we shall have war or peace."

He said the Arizona senator complained that he is being misunderstood. This, said Scranton, "raises the question of how could he be expected to change where he is president. The thought of the American chief executive constantly misunderstood by his fellow citizens, by our allies, and by our enemies, is not a comforting one."

"We need in the White House a leader who thinks clearly, who doesn't shoot from the hip, who understands that his every word and action will influence for better or for worse mankind's hopes and work for peace with freedom.

"The fact is that Sen. Goldwater has not shown these qualities."

"He has given every evidence of being a man who is seeking not to lead the Republican party, but to start a new political party of his own."

Scranton said that "of the 25 major positions taken by the Republican party in its 1960 platform, Sen. Goldwater has voted against every single one of them in the Senate. It would be amusing to hear the joke about electing Goldwater in '64—1864, that is—except that it has a tragic ring of truth to it."

Boy Not Drowned, Just Hiding at Girl Friend's Home

PAINESVILLE, Ohio (AP)—A 16-hour lake front search for more than 60 volunteers for a 10-year-old boy reported missing ended on a happy note. The youngster had been hiding in the basement of his 12-year-old girl friend's home.

The hunt began after Mrs. Robert E. Coleman of Mentor reported her son, Keith, missing at 8 p.m. Saturday.

Keith wanted to visit the nearby home of Allyson Darrow but his mother said he couldn't because the Darrows were having company. The boy, with his fishing pole over his shoulder, left the house and told his mother he was going fishing along Lake Erie.

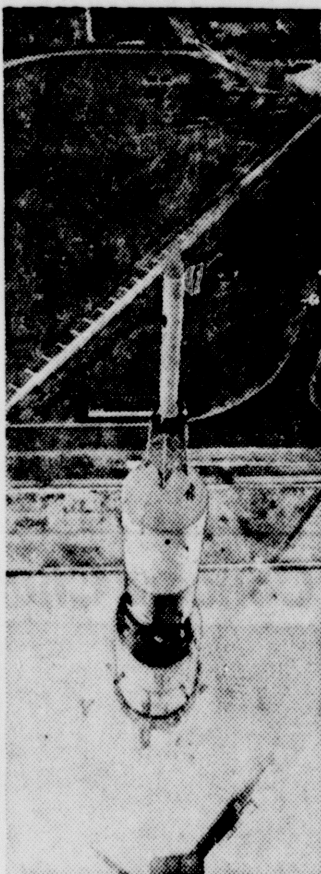

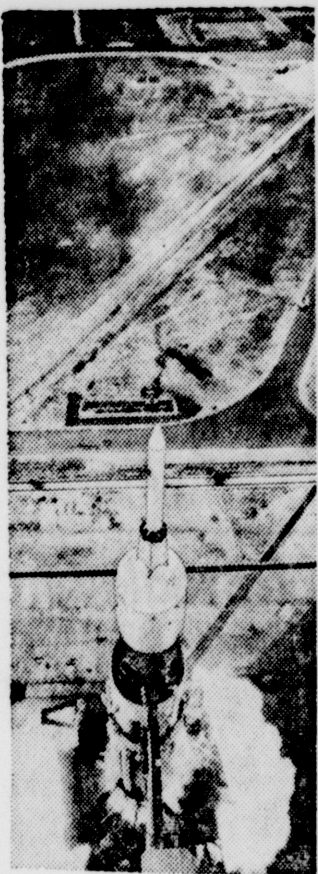

Instead he ended up at Allyson's house. Allyson, the boy said, led him to the basement, then brought him scrambled eggs for Saturday night dinner and coffee cake for Sunday breakfast. He slept in a sleeping bag.

At noon Sunday Keith decided to go home. He was leaving the Darrow home by the back door when he saw a Mentor patrolman coming toward the house.

"I'm the one you're looking for," Keith told the patrolman.

Homeworth Man, 96, Gets $1,000 Outlives Insurance Policy

A 96-year-old Homeworth man has outlived a life insurance policy which he bought June 29, 1915.

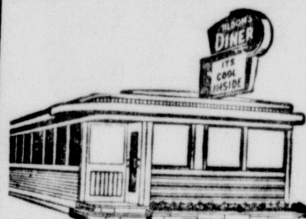

Fernando S. Pieren (pictured left above) was 47 years of age when he took out a 20-payment ordinary life insurance policy with the Lincoln National Life Insurance Co. of Fort Wayne, Ind. He is shown receiving the check from John F. Spack, agent of the company and a member of the Alliance-Salem Life Underwriters Association. At the time the policy was written, the mortality table did not extend beyond the age of 96.

Pieren was born Feb. 26, 1868, on the 113-acre farm where he has spent his life. He has been known for raising thoroughbred driving horses and purebred perchercins.

A Knox Township trustee for 14 years, he has been a member of Middle Sandy Presbyterian Church of Homeworth for 70 years, a member of Fairmont Grange for 48 years and a member of the Holstein Friesen Association of America for 40 years.

His wife, the former Ida Esick of New Franklin, to whom he was married for 60 years, died in 1952. He now lives with a son, Fred. Two other children are deceased.

The Doctor Says

By Dr. WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT
Teeth Disclose Speech Problem

Tony had a tooth problem. It stumped his dentist because he and his mother offered no clues. Molars often minimize, or refuse to recognize, their children's problems; children disguise them.

At age 9, the upper and lower 6-year molars on the right side had not grown into their normal position. They were healthy teeth as seen in an X-ray. But while the teeth on the left side came together (occluded) properly, those on the right did not touch.

Since this was an orthodontic problem, he was taken to a specialist for consultation. Tony was quiet during his exam but he didn't fool the orthodontist, who asked his mother, "Does Tony have a speech defect? Tongue thrust habits are often associated with speech defects. They are not always the cause, but they do exaggerate them."

THIS WAS THE first suggestion by anyone that an unusual tongue habit was involved.

Tony finally admitted that he rested his tongue on the right side of his mouth and kept pressing it against his teeth. When he swallowed, his tongue pressed even harder on these teeth. This powerful thrust was preventing the normal positioning of the molars.

And he did have a speech problem. Tony's speech was that of a brilliant child whose mind functions more rapidly than his tongue. Words spilled out too fast to be completely articulated. The peculiar position of the tongue made this defect worse.

ORTHODONTIC problems due to tongue thrust habits are difficult to treat until the patient breaks the habit. The longer the habit lasts, the more complicated the treatment becomes. If it is a short duration the teeth very often correct themselves. An appliance with a crib or spurs can be placed on the teeth. Exercises are also prescribed but with varying success.

Sometimes it seems that nothing works quite as well as just plain growing up. And that's what happened to Tony. A handsome boy of 14 now, he doesn't do tricks with his tongue anymore. With the help of some orthodontic treatment, his teeth are in normal position and his speech is much improved.

Hints From

Heloise

By HELOISE CRUSE

Dear Heloise: A year or so ago you gave us a marvelous new method for cooking spaghetti. I wouldn't use any other method after trying yours.

I've been cooking not only spaghetti, elbow macaroni, egg shell macaroni and the regular long pieces of macaroni this way ever since, but also used your method for packaged noodles of various sizes with the same excellent results!

I thought you should print this method again in your column. I've never had a failure, and it's such a time saver since there is absolutely no pot-watching. Here it is:

Fill a four-quart pot three-fourths full of water and bring it to a full rolling boil. Add the amount of salt the package directions call for when you put the water on to boil.

After the water is bubbling fast and full, put in the spaghetti (macaroni or whatever), give it a quick stir, then immediately put a tight-fitting lid on the pot and turn the heat off completely.

Let this sit for exactly 20 minutes, (don't remove the lid during this time), then drain. You will have a perfectly cooked product and can proceed as usual with your recipe. Use the same 20-minute time for all the products mentioned above.

Be sure to give the spaghetti, etc. a quick stir with a fork BEFORE popping the lid on the pot... that's half the secret of perfection. The other half of the secret is DON'T lift the lid until the full 20 minutes has lapsed.

Oh, Heloise, you have saved us many underdone and overdone batches of pasta. Thanks from the bottom of my heart.

DORIS TRACIE.

Gals, we have had so many letters like this that we just had to repeat it. And these products sure help our food budget, eh?

Another thing I have found since using this method: If you make up your elbow macaroni, etc., ... in the morning (I usually do this — especially for casseroles) and won't finish your recipe 'til that afternoon, then after using the above method immediately drain the hot water off and plunge the macaroni into COLD water! This prevents overcooking. Overcooking causes soggy.

Also ... I have found that if you put the cooked macaroni under cold running water from your faucet that it rinses off some of the starch!

As long as spaghetti, egg noodles, etc., are covered with cold water they can be kept two or three days in your refrigerator! This also goes for macaroni, which you use one night for macaroni and cheese and the next day for macaroni salad.

Many restaurants write that they cook spaghetti ahead of time and keep it in their refrigerators UNDER water in stainless steel or glass jars for as long as two or three days....

And we often wonder WHY we can go into a restaurant and get good spaghetti in 10 minutes! That's their answer. HELOISE.

LETTER OF LAUGHTER

DEAR HELOISE: Here is an idea that has helped me keep house throughout the years: Girls, remember you "BBD's" — Beds — Blinds — Dishes.

This is a flippant way of putting what my mother has always told me ... keep your beds made, your blinds even, and your dishes done and your house will always look rather neat.

THE GENERAL.

DEAR HELOISE: For those who travel with small children in a car during summer, try putting ice cubes in a plastic container in your ice chest.

When the children get thirsty give them a cube of ice in a paper cup. This seems to satisfy my children and it certainly saves extra stops.

M. P.

DEAR HELOISE: Do many of your readers wonder what to do with the many seedlings that crowd their punch - and - grow planters.

Today, I took foil and lined one of the plastic containers that tomatoes come in, filled it with soil and peat moss, and transferred some of the seedlings. It works beautifully.

These containers are narrow and fit nicely on the window sill.

MAUDE OSGOOD.

Heloise welcomes all mail, especially household hints which she can pass on to readers as space permits. However, because of the tremendous volume of mail she receives daily, Heloise is unable to answer all individual letters. She will answer readers' questions in her column whenever possible.

Oswald's Diary Discloses His Bitterness Over Russia

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Lee Harvey Oswald, the cold war double turncoat accused of assassinating President John F. Kennedy, grew so bitter about the Soviet Union he once embraced that he called its leaders "sick."

This and other comments on his two and a half years in the Soviet Union were reported during the weekend by the Dallas Morning News in copyright stories based on Oswald's diary and other writings.

He was so disillusioned that about "prudent" men this way:

"Having been in a foreign post and seeing how the President makes decisions on life and death matters, with the President having control over the atomic bomb, I believe both parties must nominate prudent men—not impulsive men, and I think Gov. Scranton is one of our best men."

Lodge reports to Johnson today on his 10 months in the embattled Southeast Asian nation.

Lodge put on his political hat briefly Sunday soon after reaching Honolulu, his first stop on U.S. soil on his homeward flight. He avoided all political questions from newsmen, but talked politics with Stephen Cooke, the head of the Scranton forces in Hawaii.

Cooke, asked later what the two had talked about, said, "We agreed that Bill Scranton has an excellent chance to win the GOP nomination."

Before leaving Hawaii, Lodge said he planned to stay in Washington two days. He said that in addition to the President he will meet with Secretary of State Dean Rusk, Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara, Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, his replacement as ambassador, and Gen. Earle G. Wheeler, who replaces Lodge as chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

Lodge said he did not know when he would meet with Scranton.

The retiring ambassador was given a flag-waving, cheering sendoff when he left Saigon Sunday. About 7,000, many of them Buddhist school children, turned out to shout farewell to Lodge and his wife.

As thousands of Vietnamese and American flags fluttered in the bright sunlight, a spokesman for the crowd and the government read a brief address praising Lodge for his stand "against the oppression of Buddhists by the Ngo Dinh Diem regime." Many of the flags were Buddhist emblems.

The farewell address indirectly chided the United States for having supported the Diem regime for nine years, and expressed hope that Lodge's successor would continue his policies.

came Thursday night when hundreds of whites brushed aside police guards and routed a Negro parade.

The outbreak brought the governor here the next day. He has been in the forefront in reopening lines of communication.

There were no public parades by either group Sunday but each held a meeting. Rain cut attendance at the white rally. The Negroes held an indoor meeting and were told by a spokesman for King that a biracial committee would be watched closely and that integration efforts would be resumed if no progress was being made.

TO MANILA — William McCormick Blair Jr., is the new United States ambassador to the Philippines. The 47-year-old Illinois lawyer had served as U.S. envoy to Denmark.

when arrested Nov. 22 last year he would only call himself a "Marxist"—in effect retaining Communist theory but rejecting the form practiced in the Soviet Union.

Oswald, 24, was shot to death Nov. 24 by Jack Ruby, Dallas night club operator, as the accused man was being transferred to the county jail in Dallas. Ruby, now 54, is under a sentence of death assessed him in March for the slaying of Oswald.

Publication of Oswald's writing brought a demand for an investigation from William A. McKenzie, lawyer for the widow, Marina Oswald.

In a formal news statement the lawyer said Mrs. Oswald feels that the material should not be made public until the Warren Commission, investigating the assassination, issues its report.

Tax Distribution For '63 Reported

School Districts in Columbiana County received $4,216,138 in a total distribution of $5,986,026 for the county in the distribution of real estate and public utility property taxes for 1963, according to State Auditor Roger Tracy.

Municipalities received $627,959 and townships, $364,805. The county received $740,504 and the state, $36,268 for the purpose of retiring World War bonus bonds and Korean Conflict compensation bonds.

Total distribution for the state is $755,285,150. Schools received $524,698,472 (66.8 per cent) while municipalities received $135,683,810 or 17.2 per cent.

Counties received $99,296,386 (12.6 per cent) and townships received $21,028,297 or 2.6 per cent. The state retained $4,578,183 for retirement of bonus bonds.

tion through airborne vaccines is possible as a means of preventing tuberculosis, polio and measles.

A pioneer in the research of immunizing by inhaling vaccines, Middlebrook developed an airborne infection apparatus several years ago. The device is being used to test this technique on animals at several research centers.

Since 1951 U.S. scientists have made great strides in developing the technique which they call aerogenic immunization. The basis of such inoculation depends on the use of attenuated organisms, living germs which are weakened but which are highly infectious. The organisms are sprayed into a chamber in closely controlled amounts.

A single sniff by a human, Middlebrook says, and he is immune.

The Denver scientist said mass immunizations by the airborne technique could be used theoretically to fight any infectious disease.

A big problem now is development of the highly infective but non-disease producing vaccines.

Once these are produced, then biologists will have to collaborate with engineers—particularly those experienced in ventilation—to determine proper doses for given amounts of air under all conditions.

Southern Local May Hire Coach

SALINEVILLE—The Southern Local District Board of Education may choose a new football coach and name a clerk to replace Robert Cole at a special meeting tonight.

The school is also seeking high school math and English teachers, a teaching principal to fill a vacancy at Wayne School and several elementary instructors. Due to lack of funds following the defeat of the 8.8 mill levy, the board reportedly may not hire an assistant football coach to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of George Rodiong.

ing the assassination, issues its report.

McKenzie said he telephoned J. Lee Rankin, chief counsel for the commission, who assured them that the commission did not release the material.

Reached by telephone in New York, Rankin declared, "We don't tell what the commission does" when asked about McKenzie's statement.

Joe Dealey, president of the A. H. Belo Corp., which publishes the Dallas Morning News, said publication of the diary came within the "public's right to know."

Oswald kept the diary from the time he arrived in Moscow Oct. 16, 1959, until about the time he left the Soviet Union in early 1962.

I tells of how he applied for Soviet citizenship immediately after his arrival and that the police told him to get out of the country.

"I am shocked. My dreams! My fondest dreams are shattered because of a petty official," Oswald wrote.

In despair, he slashed his left wrist but was saved by an Intourist guide who found him unconscious in a blood-smeared hotel bathroom.

He went to the U.S. Embassy after he recovered and renounced his U.S. citizenship. Embassy officials called him a fool.

The Russians permitted him to remain and assigned him a job in a radio factory in Minsk southwest of Moscow.

The disillusionment began creeping upon him before his marriage. He was shocked when a minor Soviet official told him Russia is great in nothing but literature. A fellow worker, Andrei Tovli, "says many things I don't know about the U.S.S.R. I begin to feel uneasy inside."

He was asked by officials in January 1961 if he wanted Soviet citizenship. Oswald said he did not, that he only wanted his residence permit extended.

On Feb. 1, 1961, he wrote the U.S. Embassy in Moscow asking to return to the United States.

About that time his diary recorded: "The work is drab. The money I get has no where to be spent. No night clubs or bowling alleys, no places of recreation except the trade union dances."

Thefts of Money, Radio Are Probed

LISBON — County deputies are investigating the weekend theft of money and a radio valued at approximately $100, according to Sheriff Russell J. VanFossan.

Chief Deputy Robert Beresford reported $29.75 was taken from the secretary's desk at the West Darlington Clay Co. near Negley early Sunday morning. The thieves also broke into the soft drink machine and took an undetermined amount of change. They entered the office by breaking a pane of glass in a door. Nothing else was disturbed.

Here's the Answer

QUESTION: A bottle of ink was recently spilled on our marble living room table. I have washed it repeatedly with water, but haven't done much more than lighten the stain. I have been tempted several times to use a scouring powder or some similar product, but have refrained for fear of spoiling the marble. Can you tell me whether this stain can be removed and, if so, how?

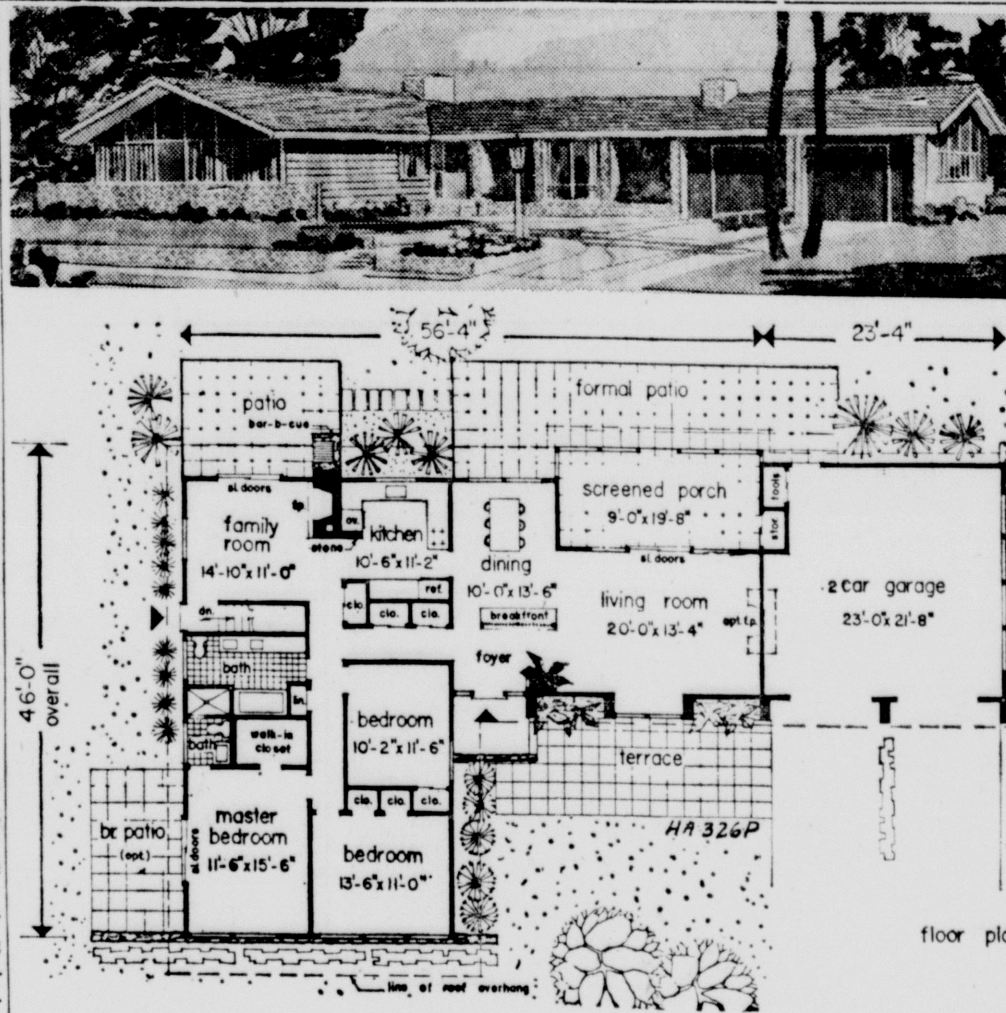

ANSWER: Get some blotting paper, denatured alcohol and ammonia. Clean the area with water. Saturate a piece of blotting paper with alcohol and press it down against the marble for several minutes. Remove it and do the same thing, but this time with blotting paper saturated with ammonia. Keep repeating this alternate blotting, once with alcohol, once with ammonia, until the stain is gone. It may take 10 or 20 such applications to do the job. However, if the stain was caused by a particular type of ink known as metallic ink, it may be necessary to spread some sodium hydrosulfite crystals on the stain, sprinkle with water and let stand for about 20 minutes. Follow with a cold water rinse and a solution of sodium citrate.

QUESTION: This is not just a question. It's a complaint. Every time I have a paint job to do, I go to our paint dealer and talk it over with him. I keep trying to get a single paint that will handle different kinds of surfaces, but he always tells me there is no such thing and I wind up buying two or three different kinds. Yet I always get the impression from reading paint advertisements that there are paints which can handle everything. Is my paint dealer giving me the right dope?

ANSWER: You can thank your dealer for being honest. There are paints which can be used on a variety of surfaces, but there is no such thing as an "all purpose" paint. That doesn't mean that you can't buy a paint which will do a good job on one or more surfaces, as well as an adequate job on other surfaces. But no single paint is the right paint for every purpose.

If it's perfect for surface number one, the chances are it is less than perfect for surface number two and just passable for surface number three. That's where the paint industry has made its biggest advances in recent years: providing specific coatings for specific surfaces. There's no doubt that it makes the consumer's choice a little more difficult, but he is assured, after making his selection carefully, that he will get a paint which will look better, last longer and is easier to apply than the paint he would have purchased twenty years ago.

MODERN RANCH of medium proportions offers a wealth of luxurious extras. The exterior presents an unusual display of stone piers, molded into stone planters at their base and juxtaposed against a narrow vertically jointed plywood siding. The stone also is used for a planter inside the foyer. Closets have been removed from the entry itself but are placed conveniently. A divider separates entry from dining room; it is composed of a low stone planter, a two-way storage cabinet and decorative grille. The optional master patio is another touch of luxury. Just Plane Girls

Newly-graduated hostesses stroll by the Russian airliners at Vnukovo airport.

SOMEHOW the Russians forgot to claim credit for "inventing" another idea of the "capitalistic West"—the airline stewardess. The Russians, however, are making up for that oversight by opening a training school for the stewardesses. The future hostesses prepare for life in the sky by studying the general operation of the airline as well as such specific jobs as serving meals and coping with various emergencies that occur during flight. They learn a half-dozen other subjects, including the fundamentals of English and other languages. They will join Aeroflot, the airline that flies nearly 350,000 miles.

Lema Nips Palmer In Playoff for Cleveland Open Title

Jack Nicklaus Places Third

'Champagne Tony' Awarded $20,000

By FRITZ HOWELL
Associated Press Sports Writer
CLEVELAND (AP) — Arnold Palmer will be a bit more careful in the future about lending putters to competitors.

About six weeks ago Tony Lema broke the weapon he had been using on the greens, and big-hearted Arnie lent him one of his own.

Sunday, in a great come-from-behind effort, and in an extra-hole sudden death playoff, Tony used the borrowed club to beat Palmer out of the $20,000 top prize in the $100,000 Cleveland Open Golf Tournament. Palmer settled for second place and $12,000.

Arnie and Jack Nicklaus, at the end of 54 holes, were deadlocked at 11-under-par 202 and three strokes ahead of the field. Nicklaus fell out of it on the first hole of the final round, taking a bogey to Palmer's birdie — and never came close to making up the two strokes.

But Lema, waving his putter like a magic wand, then stepped into the act. He sank putts of 15, 15, 8, 5 and 18 feet for five straight birdies to end the front nine — and he was deadlocked with Palmer. He birdied No. 14 with a 40-footer, and got down in two strokes from 45 feet for another on No. 16.

He was one ahead coming to 18, where he stuck his approach six feet from the hole. He was shooting for a course-record 63 if he could sink it, and he could also force Palmer, who was a pair of threesomes back, to birdie the last two holes to tie. But the putt rolled eight inches past the cup. He was careful about it — but the eight-incher also stayed out and he had a bogey. Palmer parred in to tie, and almost won it when his putt hit the back of the cup on 18 and stayed out. They finished at 270, or 14 under par for the Highland Park layout.

Lema birdied the first extra hole with a 15-footer, giving him the verdict and reversing last year's decision in the same tournament when Palmer beat him 67 to 70 in a playoff.

Nicklaus finished two strokes off the pace at 272, deadlocked with 25-year-old Terry Dill of Muleshoe, Tex. The latter's $6,250 payoff was the biggest of his career.

Allison Leads Twins Over Chicago 9-3

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer
Bob Allison hasn't done much broken field running since his college football days but he's leading a merry chase today.

The former Kansas fullback is showing his heels to the American League.

Allison cracked a single and his 20th home run in the Twins' 9-3 victory over Chicago Sunday, extending a consecutive game hitting streak to 19 and lifting his batting average to .340, tops in the AL.

Allison's season average has zoomed 50 points, from .290, during the burst. He has hit seven homers and as many doubles, driven in — runs and scored 14 for a league leading total of 55.

After Zeile Versalles' eighth homer snapped a 3-3 tie in the seventh inning, Harmon Killebrew preceded Allison's shot with a two-run 410-foot wallop — his 27th — into the bleachers.

Elsewhere, Baltimore extended its winning streak to six games and its league lead to four with a 6-4 victory over Washington while second place New York divided a doubleheader with Detroit. The Yanks took the opener 8-6, the Tigers the nightcap 6-5.

Boston swept a pair from Cleveland 8-5 and 4-3 and Kansas City blanked Los Angeles 4-0 in a single game.

Giants Take Over First, Rip Dodgers

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer
Billy O'Dell has a pain in his neck and the Los Angeles Dodgers hurt every time they look at the National League standings.

O'Dell, sidelined most of the season with the neck ailment, put the crimp on a ninth inning Dodger rally Sunday and preserved a 1-0 San Francisco victory which vaulted the Giants into the league lead and dumped the world champion Dodgers into ninth place.

Ron Herbel had blanked the Dodgers for eight innings before the Giants got a run off Don Drysdale on two hits, a walk and Orlando Cepeda's sacrifice fly. Herbel needed just three more outs for the victory. He didn't get any of them.

Ron Fairly and Frank Howard opened the Dodger ninth with singles and Giant Manager Alvin Dark lifted Herbel. O'Dell came on and when John Roseboro bunted for a hit loading the bases, Billy might've wished he was any place except the Candlestick Park mound.

But O'Dell bore down and fed Jim Gilliam a slider which the Dodger infielder popped up. Pinch hitter Lee Walls fanned on a fast ball and Maury Wills bounced out, leaving the three runners stranded.

The Phillies slipped to second in a disastrous 8-2 nightcap loss to the Cardinals after Chris Short hurled a five-hit shutout winning the opener 5-0.

Elsewhere in the NL, Milwaukee swept two from New York 7-6 and 9-0; Cincinnati ended a five-game Pittsburgh winning streak with a double victory, 6-2 and 6-5 and Chicago and Houston split, the Cubs winning the first game 10-2 and the Colts taking the nightcap 4-1 in 10 innings.

In the American League, Boston swept two from Cleveland 8-5 and 4-3; New York and Detroit split with the Yankees taking the opener 8-6 and the Tigers the nightcap 6-5; Baltimore nipped Washington 6-4; Minnesota whacked Chicago 9-3 and Kansas City blanked Los Angeles 4-0.

Junior Baseball Loops End First Half Action

Bliss and Eljer won in Class E action and Starks Colonial and Independent Hose posted wins in Class H competition as the Salem Junior Baseball League completed the first half of play Saturday.

Bliss scored two runs in the top of the ninth inning and staved off a rally in the last half to win over V.F.W. 4-3 in an extra-innings contest.

V. F. W. took the lead in the first inning as Brook Scott singled, moved to third and then scored on a fielder's choice. Bliss evened the score in the second as Rick Metts walked, went to third on a sacrifice fly and scored on an error.

The losers once again took the lead in the fifth inning but Bliss knotted the score in the seventh, forcing the game into extra innings.

In the ninth Bliss' Jim Lantz went to first when he was hit by a pitched ball, moved to second on a single by Jim Shasteen. Both scored on consecutive singles by Denny Miller and Joe Shivers.

Lantz got credit for the win while Whitehill suffered the loss.

ELJER SCORED two runs each in the first, third and fourth innings as they downed Leetonia 4022 6-3.

Boo Rozeski went all the way for the winners striking out seven, walking three and giving up seven hits — one a home run by Dave Conrad. George Bell suffered the loss and was relieved in the fourth by Jack Falzetta.

Reed Votaw had two doubles for the winners.

STARKS COLONIAL shoved across a run in the last half of the sixth inning to break a 4-4 deadlock and win over the Merchants in Class H play.

The winners scored one run in the second, two in the third and another in the fifth but were equaled by the Merchants who scored twice in each the fourth and sixth.

The winning run came as Jim Harrigar, blasted a double and scored on a long single by Oscar Pucci.

INDEPENDENT HOSE had a little trouble as they trounced Hobbycraft 9-1.

Although the winners collected only three hits, they capitalized on seven walks. Ed Koran was credited with the win while Kim Cramer was tabbed for the loss.

A word from THERON at the Country Store

I visited the famous Wall Drug store in Wall, South Dakota which is located just on this side of the Bad Lands.

While I was there I met the owner, he was a very interesting person. His intentions are always to see how interesting he can make things for those who visit his unusual place.

When I got back to the Country Store a letter was waiting on me thanking me for my visit to his place.

He told me that 90% of his business comes from people who live out of state.

By ALAN GILL

The Happy Educators — II To Chalmers H. ("Chuck") Marquis, director of programming at Chicago's highly successful educational TV channel, WTTW, educational television is simply "a tool used differently in different places." If you ask him in which direction he is heading, he will say: "All. If you say, 'Is ETV an avant garde, operation?' he will answer: 'Is there an avant garde newspaper?" He tells you that WTTW carries a junior college credit course on Shakespeare as well as a series of Shakespeare's historical dramas. "An Age of Kings." "The plays," he said, "enjoy a better rating by five or ten points, but both efforts are within our scope." One rule in Marquis's code becomes quickly clear: What the commercial networks do, educational TV doesn't do. "We produce locally only about an hour of drama each month, and National Educational Television (NET) produces another 60 minutes. The commercial boys, though, put the stuff on all field to them. Besides, drama is expensive and we just can't afford to do it on a grand scale."

"LOOK, I'VE BEEN trying for eight years to televise our local Symphony in the Park. Finally, this year, I got the rights. But the fact is I don't have the $2,000 for one concert, let alone the $8,000 for the season. We do manage to get a bit of jazz on the air, though. "The Chicago TV viewer gets 169 newscasts a week, but none from us. It would cost us $250,000 to set up and staff a newsroom and that's 20 per cent of our budget." On the week end of President Kennedy's assassination, "we informed our viewers and went off the air." There's another rule: "Because so many of our producer-directors are veterans of commercial TV, we've got to watch closely to see they don't swing too far into entertainment; our viewers can come out happy, as far as we're concerned, but they must come out a little smarter, too."

WTTW, ABOVE ALL, is geared

ed to the community's needs. It answers them with a wide range of instructional, college-credit programming. And if enough Chicagoans wish to learn to sew or train their dogs or even get a job ("Jobs in Chicago"), WTTW is glad to oblige. "I'm out there constantly, making speeches," said Marquis, "but mainly asking them what they need, what they want. I'm like a politician working the wards. To the extent that we can fill those needs and wants efficiently we'll be on the air."

I saw some of WTTW's efforts, including: a pilot film, still in rough form, for a NET series on alcoholism; a teen-agers' round-table series, "Our Two Cents Worth"; a psycho-analytical case history from a series called "About People"; and a lecture on gravity from "Dr. Posin's Giants." The programs are necessarily modest, but the scripts are excellent and the personalities — including physicist Dan. Q. Posin, who goes about with a mustache, a cat, a roll-top desk and a huge following — are colorful. The rewards for the casual viewer are many.

of tentative projects from under a desk pad and ticked off: a Spanish-English series of practical advice for hard-pressed Spanish-Americans; pointers on hunting safety; a primer on small business administration; a sports cars series; a course in driver retraining, helping veteran chauffeurs brush up on their road performance.

"And here's one I don't know what to do with yet," said Marquis. "The Council of Foreign Relations wants to work with us on the problem of a terribly well informed or at least MUCH informed people, the Americans, who can't follow through, or act, upon or contribute to the decision-making process. What can the guy in the street do about Viet Nam? Write his Congressman? What then? Will anything happen? Is there a way in which we can set up a dialogue between the citizen and his lawmaker? His government? So far, I'm stumped."

Any ideas ladies and gentlemen, for one stumped TV educator?

They're having a picnic in the good old summertime!

The Dodge Boys are playing it cool this summer. Sales have been climbing all year long because people around here are really going for the '64 Dodge. But, are the Dodge Boys boosting their prices a little bit to take advantage of the swing to Dodge? Of course not. It's going to be a long, hot summer and the Dodge Boys don't want to sweat out sales.

They figure it this way . . . why get all steamed up trying to sell somebody into a car when you can rack up more sales just by setting lower prices. Leave it to those leisure-loving Dodge Boys. Don't rush to see them . . . stroll in.

DODGE This is the full-size car that's been stealing Ford and Chevy customers left and right. How? They compare it, drive it, see that it's a bit more car, but doesn't cost a penny more. In fact, this full-size Dodge costs less than many shaved-down models.

Play it cool...see
